Ausenco appoints President Process Infrastructure to drive growth

Ausenco Limited (ASX: AAX) today announced the appointment of Mr Ed Meka to the role of President Process Infrastructure to drive growth within this Ausenco business line.

Ausenco CEO Zimi Meka said the company expected strong global demand for its Process Infrastructure solutions and Ed would play a key role in maximising these opportunities.

“Expenditure on large projects is increasing again and we’ve made a number of improvements within our Process Infrastructure business to capitalise on Create phase revenues,” he said.

“In line with our corporate strategy and previously announced restructure, we are bringing Ausenco Sandwell and Ausenco PSI under one business line focussed on growing our people, our reach, our services and projects in Process Infrastructure globally.

“When Ed led our Environment & Sustainability business the team delivered one of its strongest financial returns in recent years, at the same time achieving on our key goals of cross selling services, aligning behind common strategies and growing profitability.”

Ed has been with Ausenco since 1998 holding a number of key positions within the group. Ed and his family will relocate to Vancouver to lead the Process Infrastructure business with effect from 1 July 2011.

Mr Ron Derammelaere, President Ausenco PSI, will retire from his current role on 30 June 2011. Ron will continue to work with Ausenco in a part time, specialist consulting capacity to provide expert advice to the group.
